Retail

At L&T Infotech, we leverage the business process understanding and domain expertise drawn from our parent company, Larsen & Toubro, and the experience gained by working with client organizations - leading retailers, distributors and wholesalers. We provide the winning edge to our clients in the retail industry by enabling them to plan, implement and manage the entire IT landscape and extract full value from their current investments. Our innovative solutions across the retail value chain and flexible business models deliver long-term value to our clients.

Our rich industry experience of over a decade, strategic partnerships, and a client-centric approach, enables us to deliver the winning edge to enterprises across the retail value chain.

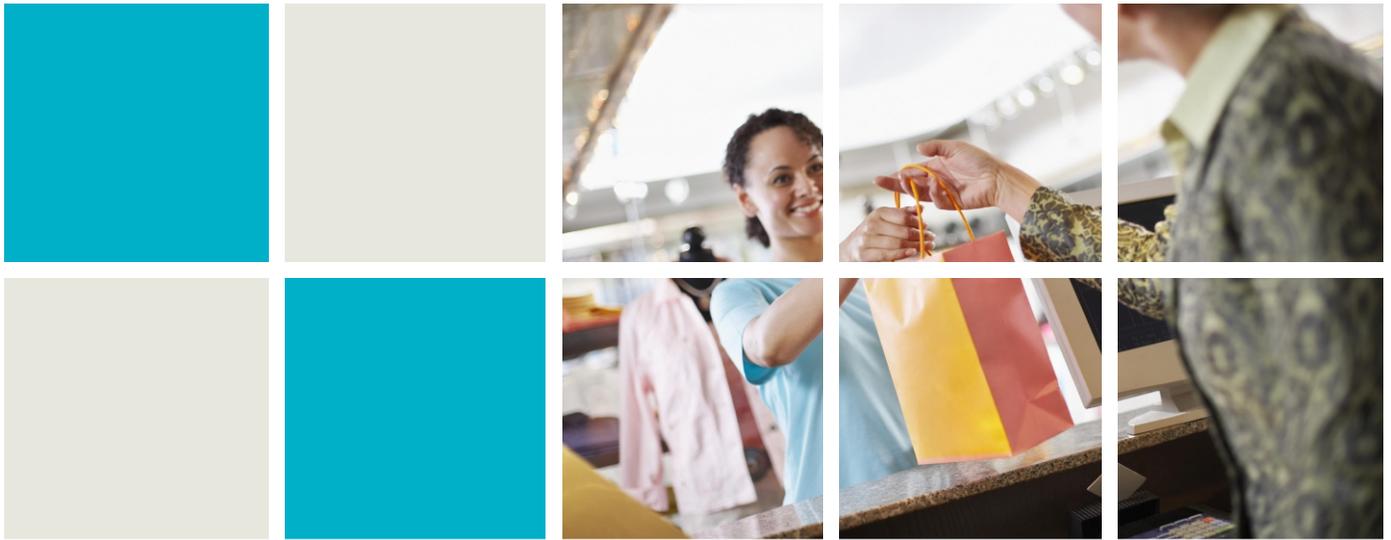

Expertise

We specialize in flawless, world-class and consistent execution. We ensure execution excellence through unique services and solutions for the retail industry right from planning, merchandising, buying to warehouse & distribution.
