Case Study

Fortune 500 Firm Partners with LTIMindtree to Enable Single Sign-On Using Oracle Identity Cloud

Client

The client is a US-based worldwide manufacturer of lifting and material-handling plant for a variety of industries, including construction, infrastructure, quarrying, recycling, energy, mining, shipping, transportation, refining, and utilities.

Challenges

Disparate systems with individual user management and access control for employees and external stakeholders.

No synchronization between user identities in Azure activity directory and other applications.

No standard identity and access management (IAM) solution across the organization.

Multiple systems requiring multiple logins by both internal and external users.

LTIMindtree Solution

- Centralized user administration and integrated IDCS with Azure AD, Oracle Commerce Cloud, and custom business applications

- Enabled web-based self-service for user password management

- Synchronized internal users from Azure AD to IDCS

- Integrated customer facing applications with one identity provider for user management and access management

- Implemented Azure AD as the Identity Provider with IDCS to enable single sign-on for all customers and dealers across integrated applications

Business Benefits Delivered
15% improvement in productivity with trusted single sign-on across different applications for 1000+ dealers.

80% reduction in cost and efforts for access management with the new centralized access management solution.

Deployed an easily extendable, reusable, and secured cloud-based centralized access management environment.
